Crossroads Tavern

A little history of Crossroads Tavern

The building was built in 1780 and was nested on 600 acres of farmland, named after Mount Pleasant. This hotel was tucked away in the middle of nowhere Pennsylvania. A rock monument stands alongside the building that served as a mile marker (26 miles to Philadelphia and 26 miles to Allentown). Legend has it that America's first President, George Washington would pass through this beautiful landscape, while conducting his presidential responsibilities.

In 2004, the building was renovated, leaving three of the four original walls intact, giving Crossroads the warm ambiance it has today.

The Inn's second floor was removed, creating a beautiful two story foyer, exposing an original fireplace that was converted for modern day use.

Every winter, we fire up this amazing piece of history, bringing a warm and inviting atmosphere to our modern day patrons.

Welcome to Crossroads Tavern.

We hope you enjoy your stay!
